Montezuma / La Plata Market Analysis

Report Context

To calculate this report, a list of Montezuma County and La Plata County schools was gathered using Colorado Department of Education data. The school districts used in this report from Montezuma County are: Dolores RE-4A, Mancos RE-6, and Montezuma-Cortez RE-1. La Plata County school districts are Bayfield 10JT-R, Durango 9-R, and Ignacio 11 JT. Enrollment and demographic data was pulled from the Colorado Department of Education, birth rates were pulled from the Colorado Environmental Public Health Tracking Program, population forecasts were calculated by the Colorado Department of Local Affairs, and population data was compiled from the American Community Survey and U.S. Census Bureau.

General Information about Montezuma / La Plata

The Montezuma / La Plata area contained in this report includes schools across the six districts listed above. Within this area, there are 41 schools*, including two schools authorized by the Colorado Charter School Institute (CSI), four charter schools (three authorized by Montezuma-Cortez, one authorized by Durango), and two Alternative Education Campuses (AECs) – one of which is a charter AEC. Appendix A has the full list of school choices.

To look at the below map in more detail, follow this link: <https://tinyurl.com/Montezuma-LaPlata-Map>.

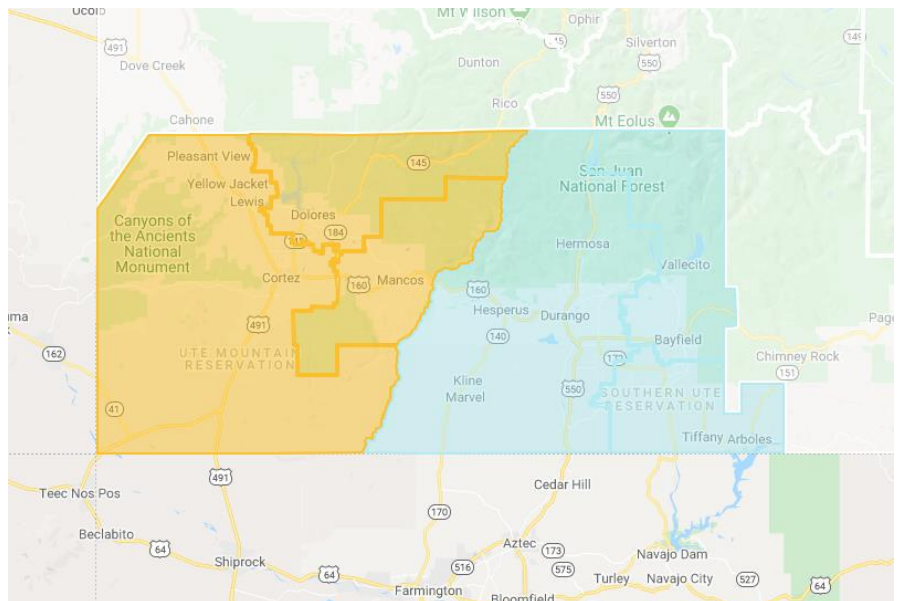

*In Colorado, the number of schools is calculated according to the number of school codes associated with each contract. School codes are assigned, upon requests of the authorizer, as a school begins operating.

Native Education

Population

As described above, Montezuma and La Plata County serve a higher proportion of American Indian or Alaskan Native (AI/AN) students than the state. The most recent Census bureau population estimates show the following numbers of school aged AI/AN children* in both counties:

La Plata/Montezuma 2019 Estimates

School Aged Children	AI/AN Pop.	Total Pop.	% of Total
Under 5 years	772	4,095	18.9%
5 to 9 years	796	4,502	17.7%
10 to 14 years	575	4,734	12.1%
15 to 19 years	677	5,101	13.3%
Total	2,820	18,432	15.3%

In 2019, 15% of school aged children in La Plata/Montezuma counties were American Indian or Alaskan Native. This percentage is larger for younger children, particularly those under 9 years old.

* AI/AN alone, not in combination with one or more races.

In Colorado generally, 2019 Census estimates show 92,982 American Indian or Alaskan Native residents*. School aged children represent 28,216, or 30%, of all AI/AN residents. Nationally, 2019 estimates show around 4,188,092 American Indian or Alaskan Native people in the United States, 1.3% of the total U.S. population. Of all AI/AN people, 1,297,420 (31%) are school aged. For comparison, in the U.S., 25% of the total population are school aged.

Educational Outcomes

In the United States, a portion of American Indian or Alaskan Native students are educated in Bureau of Indian Education (BIE) schools (including tribally operated schools) located in 23 states across the country, from Washington to Florida and California to Maine. This 2018 table, taken from the National Alliance for Public Charter Schools, summarizes the different types of schools serving native students:

Schools Serving Native Students

School Type	Description	Total
BIE direct-operated schools	Operated by BIE	53
BIE contract schools	Tribally operated, funded by BIE through contract	3
BIE tribal grant schools	Tribally operated, funded by BIE through grant	127
TOTAL BIE SCHOOLS		183
Charter schools on reservations	Authorized under state on reservations	31
Charter schools on other BIA* lands	Non-reservation lands, high concentration of Native students	12
High-concentration charter schools	More than 25% Native students	21
TOTAL PUBLIC CHARTER SCHOOLS		64

Pulled from <https://files.eric.ed.gov/fulltext/ED591745.pdf>. *BIA refers to Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Public charter schools on reservations are located on 22 different reservations spread out amongst Arizona, California, Florida, Idaho, Michigan, Minnesota, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Wyoming. Colorado does not currently have public charter schools on reservation land, nor does it have BIE schools. Therefore, when looking at Colorado state outcomes, data reflects traditional public school and charter school outcome data using state assessment results disaggregated by race. National outcomes reflect all outcome data cumulatively for each racial and ethnic group using the National Assessment for Educational Progress.

Assessment Comparisons

The following section details academic performance outcomes for American Indian or Alaskan Native students.

National Assessment of Educational Progress

The National Assessment of Education Progress (NAEP) is administered to random samples of fourth and eighth grade students nationally. These results provide a large look at national trends for American Indian or Alaskan Native students in Reading and Mathematics.

As shown below, reading results show American Indian/Alaska Native students cumulatively have lower average scores than other racial groups. In comparison with prior year scores, there is no significant difference in results, but scores have decreased for all racial/ethnic groups (other than Asian/Pacific Islander students) since 2017.

CMAS English Language Arts and Mathematics

The following graphs display achievement results for 3rd to 8th grade American Indian or Alaskan Native students (gray bar) on the CMAS English Language Arts and Mathematics state assessment in comparison with their white peers (red line). The various cut points for the different levels of achievement are also displayed in this graph in their corresponding colors (Exceeding = Blue, Meeting = Green, Approaching = Yellow, Not Meeting = Red).

For achievement, AI/AN students in Colorado are approaching state expectations in English Language Arts and Mathematics while white peers are meeting state expectations, this is true for both elementary and middle school class levels. Grade level performance over time is shown in Appendix D. The graph below shows this data in more detail.

For growth, AI/AN students are approaching state expectations, demonstrating a median growth percentile less than 50 for both elementary and middle school growth levels. White students meet expectations overall.

PSAT/SAT Evidence-Based Reading & Writing (EBRW) and Mathematics

9th through 12th grade students in Colorado take the PSAT/SAT state assessment. For 2019-20 achievement, American Indian and Alaskan Native students are approaching state expectations in PSAT EBRW and not meeting expectations on the SAT in EBRW and Math. In 2018, students did not meet expectations for PSAT EBRW and Math and were approaching expectations on the SAT EBRW. Prior years, students approach state expectations. White students in the state meet expectations each year for both assessments. Grade level performance over time is shown in Appendix E.

For 2019-20 growth, American Indian and Alaskan Native students are meeting state expectations on the PSAT EBRW and approaching state expectations for PSAT Math, SAT EBRW, and SAT Math. Prior years, students approach state expectations. White students in the state meet expectations each year for both assessments.

Graduation Rates

As shown above, disparities in educational outcomes for AI/AN students in comparison with other racial groups are demonstrated in both state and national assessments. When looking at postsecondary outcome data, like graduation rates, similar trends can be seen. The National Center for Education Statistics publishes public high school graduation rates using a cumulative 4-year graduation cohort.

2017-18 4-year Graduation Rates

Race / Ethnicity	4-yr %
American Indian or Alaskan Native	74%
Asian or Pacific Islander	92%
Black	79%
Hispanic	81%
White	89%
All Students	85%

Pulled from https://nces.ed.gov/programs/coe/indicator_coi.asp

The most recent values (2017-18 data) show an 11 percentage point difference for AI/AN students versus graduation rates overall, a 15 point difference from White students, and an 18 point difference from Asian students. AI/AN students have the lowest graduation rates of any racial or ethnic group.

Below is a table that highlights 4-year graduation rates for all students in Colorado, AI/AN students specifically, and other racial/ethnic groups during the 2018-19 school year overall and for Montezuma/La Plata counties. Similar to national outcomes, AI/AN students demonstrate the lowest 4-year graduation rates of any racial or ethnic group in Colorado, 21 percentage points lower than White peers and 25 points lower than Asian peers.

Mountain Middle School is the only school serving middle school students. For Mountain Middle, 6th through 8th grade enrollment has seen flat changes in enrollment (from 180 students in 2015-16 to 182 in 2019-20, 1.1%).

Map of 2019 Statewide Percentile Rank

This map uses calculated percentiles for each school based on their total percent of points earned on the School Performance Framework to distinguish higher performing schools in the area. To do this, each school's total percent of points earned on the achievement, growth, and postsecondary workforce readiness sections of the School Performance Framework was compared to all of the other schools across the state. Each school then received a percentile based on their performance. Schools above CSI's "Performance with Distinction" rating threshold of the 75th percentile received a distinction rating, coded as blue. Performance (2nd highest rating) is coded as green, improvement as yellow, priority improvement as orange, and no value as grey/black. To see all percentile values, view Appendix A.
